

Migration Highlights ◆ Fourth Quarter 2008

During the fourth quarter of 2008 the population of British Columbia grew by an estimated 14,440 persons, resulting in a January 1st, 2009 total population of 4,419,974. This growth in population was primarily due to gains from international migration, and to a lesser extent an excess of births over deaths and inter-provincial migration.

B.C.'s population grew at a rate of 1.7 percent between the fourth quarter of 2007 and 2008, ranking second among provinces behind Alberta (+2.6 percent) and ahead of Saskatchewan (+1.5 percent). The average growth across Canada was +1.2 percent.

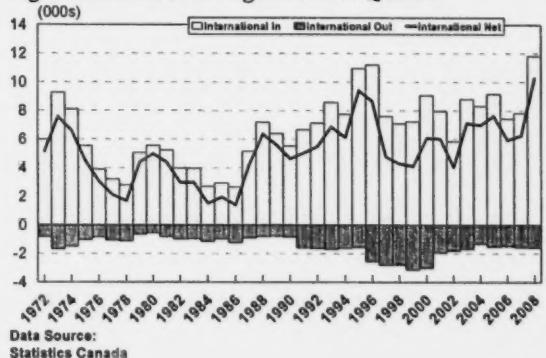

Fig 1: Inter-provincial Migration 4th Quarter

During the fourth quarter of 2008, B.C. gained 11,408 and lost 9,955 inter-provincial migrants, resulting in a modest net inter-provincial migration gain (+1,453), placing it second in Canada behind Alberta (+6,198).

B.C. had a net gain of population during the fourth quarter from all provinces and territories of Canada except Newfoundland and Labrador (-30). The largest numbers of in-migrants to the province arrived from Alberta (5,113) and Ontario (3,170).

Fig 2: International Migration 4th Quarter

Net international migration continued as the main contributor to B.C.'s population growth over the October to January period. A total of 10,255 persons were added to B.C.'s population as a result of international migration over the quarter. This is the highest level B.C. has experienced in a fourth quarter. This large increase was due mostly to a gain of 2,365 net non-permanent residents, which is also the highest for a fourth quarter. The number of immigrant arrivals, 9,464 persons, comprised 17.7 percent of Canada's total arrivals during the quarter.

Natural increase (the excess of births over deaths) added 2,732 persons to the population. Deaths were up slightly compared with the fourth quarter of 2007, at 8,023 and was due to an aging of the baby boom cohort.
